CAPTURE OF OREL
BIG RED VICTORY

BULLETIN
(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 5.—Leaving special mopping-up detachments to clean up Orel, Soviet forces already have launched a major new drive threatening Bryansk. Reuter reported from Moscow tonight.

Large armies are conducting a big pincer movement from the northwest and southwest, closing in around the station at Karakiev, 25 miles east of Bry-

MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—Red army assault forces which blasted their way into the battered German operation-base of Orel engaged today in bitter street fighting with desperately resisting Nazi rearguard forces covering a headlong retreat by the main German garrison.

Dispatches from the front said that the Germans are retreating from all sectors in the vicinity of Orel, abandoning masses of equipment in their flight.

Northwest of Orel the Germans were reported fighting desperately in order to gain time and hold open a space for withdrawal of their troops around the lost base. They threw in hundreds of planes in an effort to slow down the Soviet advance which continued relentlessly.

Pursue Retreating Germans

The Soviet troops of Col. Gen.
Rokossovsky pursued the retreating Germans with shouts of "on to Bryansk."

The rearguard forces battling the Russians who broke into Orel from the north were estimated to number 50,000 men.

The main force of Nazis fled westward through a narrowing escape corridor from the strategic base they had held for 22 months in an

Fall Of Orel Heavy Blow To Nazi Plan

German Lines May Have To Be Withdrawn Clear
Back To Kiev

By LOWELL BENNETT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The German high command may have to revise its entire defensive strategy as a result of the loss of Orel, and setbacks to the south, and write off all prospects of holding the Von Moltke line which had been planned on the basis of stabilized Balkan states, well informed observers predicted today.

These sources speculated that the fall of the central front rail city may have exceptionally far-reaching effects on the future course of the war by raising a sudden, highly grave threat to the German cause.

The Von Moltke line, on which much of the Nazi strategy was based, runs from the south of Leningrad to a point below Velizh, then southeastward to a town east of Kursk. There it loops in to Kharkov and swings due south for its final lap to the sea of Azov.

May Fall Back To Kiev

With Italy nearing collapse, the Balkans far from stabilized and with any chance of Bulgaria's joining the war against Russia now definitely out, Hitler may have to swing his right flank all the way back to Kiev.

In this connection, these observers pointed out that Hitler cannot overlook the possibility that Turkey may enter the war on the allied side, thus opening the Dardanelles to the Anglo-American navies.

The Nazi leader also must be aware, they added, that British and American armies may slash into Bulgaria and Rumania from the south, or by striking east from Brindisi after the expected Italian collapse.

The capture of Orel gives the Russians their long-awaited opportunity to breach the Von Moltke line by aiming a heavy blow at Bryansk, feeding their armies attacking that city from Kursk, which is one of the best military supply bases in that region.

These sources predicted also that within a short time the Soviets will be able to open rail communications between Moscow and Kursk, lending added speed and facilities to future operations.

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 5.—Canadian military headquarters today announced the capture of Hans Peter Krug, Nazi oberleutnant, at North Bay, Ont., approximately 115 miles north of the Gravenhurst officers prison camp from which he escaped Monday.

Officials did not disclose how he eluded the intensive search con-

details on how he was captured.

Captured at 2:20 this morning,
Krug was wearing a red checkered

PILOT SAFE AFTER
DELAWARE COLLISION

(International News Service)

MILTON, Del., Aug. 5.—An army pilot parachuted to earth uninjured today when his single-seated pur-fighter craft and plunged to the earth in flames near Milton.

The crash was witnessed by George A. Godwin, an aircraft warplanes approached his station in formation when one of the ships suddenly swerved and cut off the rear assembly of another.

Army officials at Dover, base for the planes, started an investigation immediately. The pilot's identity was not disclosed.

The capture of Catania by General
Sir Bernard Montgomery's British 8th Army, announced in dispatches late this morning, marks the beginning of the end of the stubborn defense German troops with some Italian assistance have been putting up in Sicily's strategic

Three Fires Are Reported In Night

Radio Believed Cause Of Blaze
In East Side Barber
Shop

City firemen answered three alarms during the night, one of which was false, and only one of which resulted in any damage. Fire
Chief Charles E. Thomas reports.

At 12:17 a.m. this morning, an alarm called firemen to the barber shop of Sabato DeStefano, of 341
East Washington street, where fire was discovered around the wall, near a radio, which is believed to have been the cause of the blaze.
Damage of $125 was done to the contents of the shop.

At 4:10 o'clock this morning, firemen were summoned by a still alarm to the W. F. Zehner office on South street, where fire was found in a pile of rubbish by Officer Thomas Farrow. No damage resulted.

At 8:57 p.m. Wednesday evening, a false alarm was sounded from
Box 33.

ITALIANS SATISFIED

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 5.—Great satisfaction among Italians over the Badoglio government's investigation of enormous fortunes amassed by Fascist leaders during the Mussolini regime was reported today by the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter.

"It is most gratifying to witness the transformation of American boats of fighting ability into a tremendous initial surge of power."

"It has been sufficient thus far to stop the most formidable military machine in history dead in its tracks, and to set it in reverse," Stimson said.

The secretary said he found firsthand evidence of Allied unity.

"It is a powerful weapon unparalleled in history and one our enemies had not counted on," Stimson emphasized. "It will be the cause of their undoing."

"The progress of Allied armies on all fronts continued," Stimson said
"News has been decidedly favorable."

He stated that the vital eastern Sicilian coastal city of Catania was captured by the British Eighth Army after three weeks of severe fighting.

"It must be assumed that the Axis forces now will withdraw toward Messina through a narrow corridor that is highly vulnerable to air attack and set attacks," Stimson said.

The secretary said that the American Seventh army also had made important gains and were two miles from San Fratello.

Stimson said that heavy damage was caused in the recent American air raid against oil fields in Romania, but added that the United States lost between 30 and 40 of the 177 B-24
bombers that participated.

Tax Authority In Controversy

Report Morgenthau and Economic Stabilization Director Are At Odds

SEE DELAY IN FRAMING BILL

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau was reported today as pressing President Roosevelt to decide whether he or Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson is to be the final authority on administration tax policy.

Another question which Morgenthau would like to have answered is the part that War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes has been assigned to play in working out tax matters.

Tax Bill Delay

According to informants, failure to clarify the boundaries of jurisdiction among the treasury, Byrnes and Vinson has resulted in delays in formulating the 1944 tax bill.

The house ways and means committee is slated to begin hearings on the measure the latter part of September, but it is reported, the division of authority has prevented the formulation of any program to be recommended to the tax-writing body.

Vinson's interest in the new tax bill, it was said, stems from his efforts to check inflation. But high government spokesmen sketched the economic stabilization director's real tax job as being to formulate a program which will be acceptable to congress in an election year.

Opposes Pet Scheme

In this respect, Vinson was reported as being opposed to the treasury's pet money-raising, anti-inflation scheme—the so-called "spending tax." The senate finance committee rejected the treasury proposal within 24-hours of its submission during consideration of the tax bill last year, and Vinson was pictured as attempting to avoid a repetition of that embarrassment.

To date, Vinson has seen eye-to-eye with treasury experts on only one principle of taxation, and that is opposition to any general sales tax.

DEMAND FOR BARRING 'CRIMINALS' PLACES NEUTRALS ON "SPOT"

country of Mussolini or other Axis leaders, if they requested admittance, on the grounds that they are undesirable and might try to foment a Nazi or Fascist revolution if admitted.

Neutrals On Spot

The president's appeal, well informed diplomats candidly stated, is something new in international law and has put the neutrals "on the spot".

The appeal was addressed to Sweden, Spain, Turkey, Portugal, Switzerland, Vatican City and Argentina. The president informed them that if sanctuary was granted Mussolini and "his gang," or any other Axis "war criminals," the action would be "inconsistent with the principles for which the United Nations are fighting."

If they should grant the American executive's request they will incur the wrath of the Axis. If they grant refuge to any of the Axis henchmen that the Allies have branded "war criminals" they will incur the displeasure of the powerful United Nations.

Face Hard Decision

In the case of Switzerland or Sweden, who are islands in an Axis sea, the consequences of German wrath for some time to come may be unpleasant indeed.

Perhaps Argentina, of all the few neutrals, is in the most enviable position of all. For Argentina is cut off from every means of travel from Axis countries.

So Argentina conceivably could politely say no to the president's request, and yet never actually offend the United States because the question of giving refuge to the Axis offenders probably never would arise.

According to international legal experts, the right of a country to grant sanctuary to a political refugee is one of the fundamental and recognized principles of international law.

RUSSIANS PURSUE GERMAN FORCES IN FLIGHT FROM OREL

attempt to escape the fate which befell German troops surrounded and annihilated at Stalingrad.

Immediately after the Soviet high command announced that its siege units had broken into the city and began engaging Nazi rearguard units in hand-to-hand fighting the Berlin radio broadcast a dispatch by DNB, official German news agency, admitting that the Nazis had evacuated Orel.

New Red Offensives

The German version of the rout of Nazi forces said that the German lines had been "taken back behind the remnants of the city of Orel." It was asserted that the Germans had "disengaged themselves from the enemy and taken up previously prepared more favorable positions." Berlin also claimed that evacuation of all military and industrial establishments at Orel had been effected "according to plan."

Simultaneous with the breakthrough into Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow and one of the most heavily fortified German bases, other Soviet forces loosed new offensive operations at two other points on the southern front. The Russians lashed out at the Germans in the Belgorod sector, 50 miles north of Kharkov, and improved their positions in the embattled Mius river sector below Voroshilovgrad.

In Belgorod Area

In the heavy fighting in progress in the Belgorod area it was said that the Germans are contesting every yard and the Russians literally are stepping over piles of German corpses to advance.

In their monumental effort to cover the retreat from Orel and save the majority of an estimated force of between 200,000 and 250,000 troops, the Germans used strong tank units, well-equipped infantry and squadrons of airplanes in desperate counter actions which so far have proved futile.

Front dispatches said the Germans tried to evacuate Russian civilians from Orel and carry them away as hostages or to do forced labor. One report quoted a Russian officer as saying that the Germans carried away every scrap of metal they could get their hands on, including door knobs and pipes.

But in their hasty retreat the Nazis finally were forced to abandon rich supply bases and ammunition dumps.

Although Soviet arms closed in fast the Germans pouring out of Orel still retained a broad escape corridor leading to the west through Tambu Bay, strafed barges in nearly enemy waters and fired supply dumps on the south bank of the Francisco river.

At New Britain, Allied bombers attacked airfield dispersal and building areas at Gasmata and Cape Gloucester, blasted enemy installations on both sides of Vitiaz Strait and bombed large hideouts along the Inne river.

Medium bombers bombed and strafed a Jap airfield on adjacent villages on Selaru Island in the Tenimber group west of New Guinea.

FORCED DOWN AT LISBON

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Nazi news agency, D.N.B., today broadcast a dispatch from Vigo, Spain, asserting that a four-engined American airplane made a forced landing at Lisbon when it ran short of fuel.

The broadcast, recorded by Reuter, said that 16 men aboard were interned.

Nazis Hard Pressed

London, Aug. 5.—Disorganization of German communications which permitted the Russians to storm into Orel means that a vast force of Nazi troops is faced with an ordeal perhaps worse than anything that previously has beset the German army.

Exchange Telegraph reported from Moscow today.

Under ceaseless Russian blows the Germans were said to be withdrawing from all sectors, leaving a trail of wrecked tiger tanks.

Land torpedoes which are a new weapon mounted on weird low-slung carriages, are being sent rumbling toward the Russian lines by the retreating Germans. Soviet snipers are exploding the torpedoes with rifle fire.

Importance Recognized

The importance of this railroad-highway ring was quickly recognized at the beginning of the Sicilian campaign. Within a dozen hours of the Allied landings on Sicily Saturday morning, July 10th Gen. Montgomery's powerful British Eighth Army was tearing up the island's east coast towards Catania, southern key to the vital ring.

Unfortunately, however, the Nazis were equally aware of Catania's importance and had assigned most of the Hermann Goering Panzer division to its defense. By late Monday, two and a half days after their landing, the advance guards of the Eighth army were in contact with Catania's defense lines, beginning the siege that has terminated today.

Unquestionably the taking of Catania was greatly facilitated by the rapid and irresistible advance of the magnificent American Seventh army, which, after mopping up most of southern and western Sicily, was tearing great gaps in the Axis defense-line north of the Eighth Army, threatening to break the strategic transportation ring at Bronte and Randazzo almost directly across the circle from Catania.

Probably, this morning's capture of Catania will be followed within a day or two by the taking of Bronte and Randazzo by America's Seventh army. That will mean that Axis defenses will have to be pulled back from 50 to 60 miles to the line stretching across Sicily from Taormina to Cape Orlando.

Catania was not the only strategic city whose capture by Allied forces was announced in today's dispatches. More than 1,000 miles to the north and east of the Mediterranean theatre of action, Red Army storm detachments were forcing their way into Orel, great bastion of defense of the German line in south-central Russia.

Most important feature of the taking of Orel was its demonstration that the Red Army has now learned how to beat the Germans in the summer. The game on the vast 2,000-mile Russo-German front is by no means played out, but the Russians, with their new tactics and American-British equipment have made an excellent beginning.

EPWORTH EVENT HONORS TRIO ENTERING SERVICE

As a farewell courtesy to three members of Epworth Methodist church who are leaving for the U.S. Armed Forces, the Young Married Peoples class entertained informally at a corn and wiener roast on the church picnic grounds, Wednesday evening.

Sharing honors were Don Potter of East Washington street, who leaves Saturday for the U.S. Navy; Blair Alverson of Walmo who leaves for the U.S. Marines soon and Bill Johns of Clemmore boulevard, R.D., who will leave shortly for the U.S. Army. Wives of the three, were special guests of the occasion.

An appetizing menu was prepared and served to upwards of forty.

Following, the guests of honor each received bullet proof Testament as a farewell remembrance. The presentation was made by Rev. William A. Thornton, in behalf of the assemblage.

Committee on arrangements composed of Mr. and Mrs. William Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burkholder and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Sadler.

OFFICERS-TEACHERS SEW FOR RED CROSS

Officers and teachers of the Cradle Roll and Beginners department of Highland U.P. Sunday school were entertained for luncheon at one o'clock on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Lindner, Euclid avenue, with Mrs. W.C. Emery as associate hostess.

Afternoon hours were spent in sewing for the Red Cross.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. J. Porter Campbell, of the Wilmington road.

Excell Club Change

The tureen noon day luncheon planned by Excell club members for Wednesday at Cascade park has been postponed until August 18 at the same place. Mrs. John Knell will be the presiding hostess as scheduled.

ARMY THE KEY IN ITALY

IT IS impossible to predict developments in Italy in the next few days. Italy is aflame with popular protest and beset by confusion and all the emotions that provide the setting for a reign of anarchy. Badoglio must keep order or he will fall, he must surrender to the Allies or he will fall, and if he does not play ball with Hitler the Germans will attempt his downfall.

The future course of Italy will depend for the most part upon the army. The king elevated Badoglio evidently with the idea that as a marshal the army would rally to him and follow his leadership. But the army is quite as likely to have another leader now, which is public opinion. If Badoglio can not interpret public opinion accurately, an extremely difficult task in Italy's situation, and translate it into action, the army, which is composed of the sons of the folks at home who create public opinion, will not act as a united force for the preservation of order.

The president says that in accepting Italy's surrender the Allies will deal with any one not a known Fascist. One possibility is that a city will offer to surrender unconditionally as a start. That example could sweep Italy like a conflagration with an entire nation laying down its arms despite Badoglio, Hitler, king or what have you. The let-down of Italian morale is such that the only alternative to surrender seems to be complete anarchy.

MUST KNOW OWN HISTORY

Every public school or other educational institution that receives support from the state of Illinois must teach United States history, the principles of American government and the use of the Australian ballot system, now in use in every state. Such is the effect of two bills just signed by Gov. Dwight H. Green.

Men going overseas to fight for the American way of life obviously lack a vital stimulus unless they have a thorough understanding of what that way is and of how it came into being. It is not freedom as an abstraction for which millions of American lives may be jeopardized. Rather it is for the perpetuation of freedom's fruits, fruits that the Axis, every member of which makes man not the possessor, but the mere creature, of the state, would destroy. As Governor Green says:

"Truly the study of American history and governmental principles is one of the strongest safeguards of our liberties, because it teaches us to shun the foreign and uni-American 'isms' which have caused the downfall of many other nations. A comparison of our government with the governments of our totalitarian enemies makes the issue of this war startlingly clear to every American man and woman, and it gives our fighters on the battle fronts and our workers on the home front that added spark of inspiration to carry on relentlessly until the war is won."

It is astonishing and deplorable that such knowledge is not a prized possession of all graduates of the nation's secondary schools.

HIMMLER IN HAMBURG

Eight of the heaviest air raids in history have all but wiped Hamburg off the map. An average of 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped in each raid.

This is the most severe punishment taken by any city since the beginning of war. Not even Warsaw and Rotterdam suffered such complete devastation. This razing of Germany's second largest city is significant because it establishes a pattern which will be followed with increasing frequency as times goes on, a pattern designed to make Germany a battered land of frightened and demoralized people long before the time comes to send invading troops across her frontier.

Hamburg was a city of a million inhabitants, the nest of hundreds of U-boats, a center of industrial production, heavily protected by anti-aircraft forces and fighter planes. Therefore the successive attacks by United Nations squadrons answered in the affirmative the question of whether so great a city can be made uninhabitable by air attack alone.

The presence in Hamburg of Heinrich Himmler, head of the German police, in itself constitutes evidence that the objectives of the air attack have been achieved. Himmler hurried to Hamburg to inquire into the peace demonstrations that followed first bombing attacks on the city. The German people, after four years, are having the war brought home to them and they are discovering, just as the Italians discovered, that it is an unpleasant business and hard on the nerves and courage.

Himmler's troubles are just beginning. Hamburg is merely a starting point of his frantic tour to stifle the smoldering unrest which will burst into flame as the air power of the United Nations mounts and more and more cities are obliterated from the map.

This is not new pattern of war. It was invented by the Nazis themselves and was followed in the earlier days of the war with notable success. Now the power to employ it effectively has passed to other hands and it is proving to be a potent instrument of Nazi destruction.

FORD AT EIGHTY

Henry Ford, the man who put America on wheels, observed a rather sad eightieth birthday. By his side should have been his son, Edsel. But Edsel Ford lies in a newly dug grave and the slender, aging man noted his birthday alone. But instead of grief, Henry Ford as always radiated hope and talked of better things to come for the United States.

Henry Ford is one of the greatest of all living Americans, the real industrial genius of this new world, the man who proved the truth that America is the land of opportunity.

Many of the younger generation fail to realize his amazing contribution to his country. His dream was not the automobile alone. He had the vision of a light, economical car which could be mass-produced and sold at half the price of automobiles of his day. He did the job and millions of Americans discovered what it was to own an automobile. It was Henry Ford more than any other man who made the horse and buggy obsolete.

He built 15,000,000 of his Model T cars before he changed the design and when he did change, Americans were traversing the country on rubber tires and hard roads, a motoring nation. He paid the highest wages in industry, he built hospitals and museums, he spent a fortune trying to sell the idea of peace. And industrially he was always moving ahead—into tractors and high-priced automobiles and airplanes. For years the Ford trimotor was the standard transport plane in America.

Henry Ford does not need time to build his greatness. At eighty, he must realize that he achieved it before he was fifty.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, PH. D.

TEEN BOY NEEDS DAD'S AID

There are some wonderful fathers who are pals to their teen-age boys. You and I have known some of them. I recall that while watching at an air post last summer I was able to observe a father and his two boys 15 and 17 hauling oats from a field close by. While traveling on the empty wagon to the field and while putting on the load of oats, they constantly carried on a conversation of the most companionable sort. Not once did their voices or utterances indicate the slightest irritation. Occasionally there was laughter. Yet they worked hard and for long hours together. After they had milked the cows of the large dairy herd, they hauled in a load of oats, leaving the field when it was dusk.

On a bus, several months ago, a boy about ten and his father sat in a seat next behind me. I could hear their companionable conversation during the 20-mile trip. The father did not once seem weary of answering all the lad's questions and though the boy usually took up the slack in conversation, the father did so several times.

Companionable Hours

As I listened, I happily recalled some very companionable hours with my own father years ago—when he once helped me make a rabbit trap. This stands out as if yesterday yet I must have been only ten or twelve then; when we went fishing together after the grain and hay were harvested; when we used to get up early during September mornings when I was teaching my first year in a one-room rural school near home) to seed the fields in wheat. We were in the field by daybreak and sometimes had seeded several acres before I had to leave for school. I was sixteen then.

I remember that Father and I talked a great deal during those early mornings, while doing the chores before breakfast and while in the field. Believe it or not, we had no light, not even a lantern, since Father supposed a lantern might be dangerous.

The only times Father spoke a bit crossly to me those mornings were when I didn't hurry the horse very thoroughly. Finally, I resolved to spend as much time on a horse as he did, carrying it over two or three times when necessary.

Sympathetic Fathers

It has been my rare privilege to visit in a number of homes throughout the United States, homes of various economic levels, among which were one or more teen-age boys. Very vividly I recall several families in which it was a treat to observe the companionship between the father and son. Also I have observed fathers who seem ideal in their consideration of the adolescent daughter or of boys and girls of much younger ages.

I have addressed scores of service club luncheons in various parts of the nation on, "When Dads are Dads," after which practically always one or more fathers have come to me to tell me in detail of their delightful relationship with their adolescent sons. Experiences like these are reassuring to me.

However, not nearly all fathers are like this. Some are almost strangers to their children of any age; and a few are always nagging at them. Many mothers have written me to ask how to get the father to be more interested in the children and companionable with them, causing me to prepare a special bulletin, "Fathers are Parents, Too," which may be had for three cents in postage in the usual way.

ANSWERING CURIOUS CYNIC

A government report announces there are over 25 million cows in the United States. Just another item in the days' moods.

The pie-eating contests are also off for the duration.

CONFIDENCE

Emerson once wrote a sentence about confidence that should profoundly affect the lives of all of us, if: "Every heart vibrates to that iron string."

What he meant was that the man who has confidence in himself and his plan or objectives, in his ability to accomplish his ambitions just naturally inspires respect in the minds of those with whom he comes in contact.

In other words, believe in yourself and others will believe in you. Do not be afraid of having too much confidence. If you are inclined to overdo things, nature has a way of establishing a balance—an equilibrium—when necessary.

Why it is a natural law as immutable as the Law of Gravity. People just cannot help respecting and believing in those who have self-assurance and confidence in themselves.

This is why we know the United States will win this war. Our soldiers have confidence in themselves and in their ability to win. And, this confidence is not built on the false ROBOT doctrine of a race of superior beings or in the fatalistic concept of a sure reward of a golden crown for those who fall in battle.

It is when a man exercises his best judgment in buying stocks that they behave the worst.

The reason for not being able to buy new things now is because the price asked for them is too high—or sumpin'.

A vacation is often just finding another place to loaf.

Small talent has to have a drag in order to fit into a big job.

COURTESY IN BUSINESS

I read your recent article on the importance of courtesy—in both business and social life. I agree with you as to its importance in social life; but I am not sure that it is essential in business.

It's been said that courtesy is not essential in business. My husband always makes a hit with the "fair sex" in his office and among our friends. However, this has not led to any great success in his business life, where he has remained static for years. I have seen many social bows become very successful in business, while my husband who has manners par excellence is not doing well. Do you think courtesy pays dividends commercially?—H. J. I.

Answer: Yes, I do think courtesy pays dividends in business, as well as in social life, but to be a success one needs ability, ambition and incentive as well. Your husband has remained static in spite of, not because of, his good manners. Since I have never met him, I am unable to say what the reason is but I'll venture a guess—that he is too easy-going, lacks a sense of responsibility, doesn't demand sufficient respect from his co-workers, all of which can be acquired without courtesy.

It is possible and profitable to be a dignified and courteous go-getter in business. The rough shot may succeed in the "lower bracket jobs," but a good executive must mix courtesy with his cleverness and discipline.

Question: Should the bread and butter letter be sent to the hostess only or to the host too? (2) What length of visit requires such a letter? (3) When should it be sent?

(4) Should such a letter be answered?—C. C.

Answer: It should be addressed to the hostess. (2) Any overnight visit—even it for only one night.

(3) Within two or three days after you have arrived home. (4) Yes.

This is the courteous thing to do.

TENDER SIDE

This to man's credit I relate. When some his failings catalogue, I've never known a man so great. He wouldn't stoop to pat a dog.

MODEST

How fine and how brave and how modest they are. These boys who return from the battle zone far!

They tell how their comrades risk all every day.

But never a word of themselves do they say.

ONE THING WORSE THAN A QUILTER

One thing worse than a quilter is the fellow who is afraid to begin.

MENTAL TESTIMONY

Men tell their wives everything, just like the defendant does the prosecuting attorney.

THE MORE EDUCATED SOME PEOPLE ARE, THE HARDER IT IS TO UNDERSTAND THEM.

Are for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.—Joshua 24:15.

BIBLE THOUGHT

These bareback dresses for town wear won't be popular. If a lady is slender enough to be stylish, too many bones show up.

Peaches at $7 a bushel make a lot of people feel like they didn't want to can any this year, anyhow.

Horse power without brain power is a dangerous commodity.

After a woman gets through dressing for a party she is too exhausted to be polite to anybody but strangers.

Finding a reason to pursue happiness is not easy to find now.

They were out collecting subscriptions for a new church. One of the collectors met Uncle Henry Catch-

McNulty.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

Respect the things your friends and acquaintances treasure and are proud of. That is really politeness, and criticism of them is rude.

The skunk is an isolationist. Sure that nothing will dare attack him, he walks serenely on the highway and the machine age gets him.

Henry Ford does not need time to build his greatness. At eighty, he must realize that he achieved it before he was fifty.

How To Liquidate Large Jap Officer In Small Foxhole

American Soldier Wounded, But Victorious After Hand-To-Hand Skirmish

By PAT ROBINSON
(L.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

GUADALCANAL, Aug. 2.—(Delayed)—I couldn't tell today whether Pvt. Mallard Morrison of Whiteville, Tenn., is prouder of 10 saber wounds (now nicely healed), his victory of a Japanese officer in hand-to-hand combat in a little foxhole, or a jeweled saber he took from the Jap and which he is sending home.

The husky, grinning former truckman was surrounded by admiring pals as he recounted his experiences. He said:

"Bedford Loggins, an Alabama boy and I were in a foxhole near Munda. We had pushed ahead that day and our job was up front, defending a bivouac area."

"Just before dawn the Japs counter-attacked. The first thing Loggins and I knew this big Jap dived in on us, swinging this saber right and left."

Morrison hefted the saber lovingly as he continued:

"There wasn't much room. I stuck my gun into the Jap's stomach and pulled the trigger. But the gun jammed and I was in a hell of a fix until Loggins grabbed the Jap and slammed him to the bottom of our foxhole. I pounded the Jap's face with my gun butt, only half the time I was hitting his helmet."

"The Jap got one hand loose and tried to blow all three of us to hell with a hand grenade. He fought like a wildcat and we were so crowded we couldn't get a chance to finish him off."

"I yelled and another Alabama boy, Bill Mayers, rushed over from a nearby foxhole and ran his bayonet through our Jap."

After the Americans broke up the enemy attack, Mallard continued, he and Loggins walked back to a first aid station.

THOSE "CORNY YANKS"

CONSTIPATED!

Don't Force! Don't Strain!
Thus Risking Hemorrhoids!

Here's one right and proper way to moisten hard dry passages and secure more gentle "easy" movements. 15 minutes before breakfast, drink a glass of hot water to which one tea-spoonful of Kruschen Salts has been added. While you are eating breakfast the hot water and Kruschen will be feeding moisture to those hard, dry passages. They become soft, moist, easier to move. No need to strain and thus risk painful rectal irritation. Usually within 30 minutes wastes are expelled smoothly and easily. You feel gloriously fresh and alert.

Take only as directed. Try Kruschen for 5 days for you can so regulate the dose as to bring about that "easy" movement such as you have long desired. Don't delay—you can get Kruschen Salts at

State authorities and some way of compelling harmony with the State Department. Certainly they should be disabused of their notion that they are empowered to originate foreign policy instead of just executing it.

IT IS ridiculous to place the blame on "irresponsible underlings" and again use the defense that the heads of the OWI organization did not know anything about what was being done. If they do not know what is being done, what are they there for? And if they are not to blame for the "irresponsible underlings" who is? The incompetency here is at the top as well as at the bottom and in between. Mr. Roosevelt, himself, has made it clear that the present arrangement is working badly and that reform is needed. Where does all this leave Mr. Davis, now in Africa after gathering information and speaking at testimonial luncheons during a visit to London?

JUST BEFORE Congress cut his appropriation Mr. Davis threatened to resign. Even if Mr. Davis should make good on that threat, of which there is slight chance, it would be only a partial solution. The real solution is to recognize that psychological warfare and physical warfare are closely linked; that the former is secondary only to the latter, but, obviously, should be under its direction. To be effective, psychological warfare and physical warfare must be in complete harmony and under one direction. It has not been in complete harmony and it is not under one direction. It is the job of the President to bring about both these things. He himself has made clear the necessity. It is not likely that Congress will rest calmly when it reassembles if this situation remains unchanged with the same gentlemen in charge.

Take only as directed. Try Kruschen for 5 days for you can so regulate the dose as to bring about that "easy" movement such as you have long desired. Don't delay—you can get Kruschen Salts at

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, (R) Mich.: "It is a very simple matter to agree with the president that our fiscal situation requires still further heavy increases in current tax collections. . . . But it is a horse of another color when you try to go from the abstract to the concrete and identify the sources from which increased revenues can be obtained without jeopardizing the national economy."

NEW YORK—Lieut. Gen. Breton B. Somervell, chief army service forces: "Only two-fifths of our program for 1943 was accomplished in the first half of the year and three-fifths remain for completion. Monthly schedules must be increased throughout the year if our procurement plan is to be attained."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, (D) Wyo., investigating possibilities of synthetic gasoline: "If this country is to hold its position of world air routes and in other motor fields, it must have much more fuel than the present 15 to 20-year supply of known crude oil reserves."

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis: "The United Mine Workers of America are the only mine workers in any civilized country who do not receive compensation for travel time at each end of the shift."

FUNERAL DIRECTOR NAMED MCKEESPORT RATION BOARD HEAD
(International News Service)
PITTTSBURGH, Aug. 5.—The appointment of Melvin H. Jaycox, well-known proprietor of a funeral director, as chairman of the McKeesport rationing board to succeed Watson M. McKee, who was ousted on charges of mismanagement, was announced today by Pittsburgh District OPA Director Alvin J. Williams.

Jaycox has been chairman of the board's community service panel since he became a member in January of this year.

Simultaneously, William J. Williams, announced that the 22 other members of the rationing board who were accused of concurring with McKee of allegedly issuing improper gasoline allotments will be retained.

WARNING! BEWARE OF BOWEL WORMS

Immediately isolate your child if you suspect he has a bowel worm infestation. And you may not know what is wrong. Warning signs are: picky appetite, nervousness, uneasy stomach, constipation, etc. Get Jaycox's Vermifuge. It is a safe, effective medicine used by millions of children. Be sure you get JAYCOX'S VERMIFUGE.

'Out Again, In Again' Costs Real Money

Four Men Pay For Chiding Saloonist But Fail To Chide Mayor

William Smiley, Sam Zimmerman, James Fair and John Dennis were the names given in police court by a quartet who played the "Out Again, In Again" act in a South Side saloon. Mayor Charles B. Mayne fined each $25.00 with the alternate of visiting Sheriff Clyde Badger in "Court Street Castle."

They reportedly went to the Streamline lunch, and informed it was too late to buy beer. They didn't want to leave but finally did. They went to another beer place, bought some "suds" then meandered back to the Streamline where they set down the beer and themselves then proceeded to guzzle, much to alleged discomfort of the owner. They allegedly broke some bottles and glasses and the night's activities found Policemen Ray Showalter and Art Lowers gathering the quartet into the dragnet with their consequent police court appearance.

Saloonkeepers here some time ago agreed to co-operate with Mayor Charles B. Mayne's request they close their places at midnight.

FLAME ROOF LUMBER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK — Chemicals for treatment of wood are expected to continue available, shortages feared by some wood preservers having failed to develop. Coal-tar creosote volume is up because of increase in coke production. Chemical preservative salts for treatment against termites and decay, although comparatively tight, are still available, and no curtailment is foreseen for fire-retardant chemicals, earmarked almost exclusively for treatment of lumber intended for war use.

INJUNCTION IS ASKED IN RENT CASE BY TENANT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 5.—A temporary injunction was ordered today by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker restraining A. P. Haze of Ellwood City and J. A. Green of New Castle from demanding or receiving rent in excess of the legal maximum in New Castle and from eviction of the tenant, Elizabeth Smolinski.

The defendants allegedly had demanded $30 per month rent, $10 in excess of the legal maximum, and had threatened to evict the tenant for her refusal to pay. The rending of the property was controlled by Haze with Green as his agent.

The hearing date for the preliminary injunction was set for Aug. 12.

Leaves Friday To Enter Ferry Service

Miss Margaret C. Harper of 309 Boyles avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. G. Harper of 309 Boyles avenue, leaves Friday for Sweetwater, Tex., where she will enroll in the Women's Army Ferry Service (The Fifineillas). She was accepted recently and early next week expects to start training for the job of ferrying planes for the armed forces.

In entering the ferry service Miss Harper is replacing, in a sense, her brother, Capt. Edwin R. Harper, late of the air force of the United States Marines, who was killed in the skies over the South Pacific in April. He had been made a major in the air force but his majority did not arrive until several days after his death.

Miss Harper has been interested in aviation for some time and has many hours credit in the air. Following the death of her brother she felt it was her duty to enter the service. Oddly enough the camp to which she has been assigned is "Camp Avenger".

GREAT SICILIAN PORT NOW HELD BY ALLIES CAPTURED BY BRITISH

fall of Catania will result also in the increased surrender of remaining Italian divisions who will leave the Nazis to their fate.

The real battle for Catania was fought out principally on rough ground south of the city where every yard of rock was dominated by enemy gun positions, shielded by mine-fields and served by excellent observation posts which hampered every move Montgomery made.

Tight Noose On Messina

Meanwhile, Allied land, air and naval forces pulled the noose tighter around the Messina bridgehead, inflicting creeping paralysis upon the German defense system by cutting the main communication arteries.

American naval units off Cape Orlando maintained ceaseless bombardment of enemy positions, rendering the only coastal road and railway line useless to traffic, while British warships reduced the Taormina road and rail arteries on the east coast to twisted, shell-pitted wreckage, thus hamstringing enemy communications on both sides of the island.

Fall of Catania, leaving the Axis with Messina as its sole port of entry or exit, was announced in a special communiqué from headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"The city of Catania has been in our hands since 8:30 this morning. It is the Eighth British Army which has entered the town."

Other Advances

Other Allied forces meanwhile smashed forward along the entire front to drive the Germans and Italians back into the steadily narrowing bridgehead around Mount Etna.

Capture of Catania came on the fifth day of the Allied all-out offensive, at the start of which Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of the powerful Eighth Army, charged his men to attack and drive the Germans from Sicily.

The suddenness of Catania's capitulation was emphasized by the fact that the special communiqué announcing the city's fall came just shortly after issuance of the regular communiqué which said that the Germans were making every effort to hamper the Eighth Army's progress with bombs and demolition bombs.

Other Towns Fall

Immediately before the capture was announced a bulletin was issued stating that "in the Catania plain British troops have crossed the Dittaino river and we are close to Catania."

The fall of Centuripe, northwest of Catania, also was officially announced.

Fierce fighting was reported in progress between the American Seventh Army and the Germans around Troina on the northern flank of the enemy defense line.

The Messina bridgehead was being reduced steadily in continued advances under cover of withering air and naval bombardments.

The estimated 100,000 Germans and Italians cornered in northeast Sicily faced the prospect of being bottled up in the region of Mount Etna as a result of pulverizing American and British naval assaults disrupting the main roadways of retreat along the north and east coasts of the dwindling bridgehead.

The American Seventh Army in the north pressed eastward from captured Catania, while heavy United States cruisers and destroyers lobbed shells into enemy positions far to the rear from a point off Cape Orlando.

RECOMMENDS LIGHT

* Councilman D. O. Davies today recommended to city council that a 250 candlepower street light be erected in Crowle alley, which was asked by persons who travel that section. Colleagues adopted the recommendation.

In Far East

In the Far East, meanwhile, Allied headquarters in the south Pacific predicted that Munda would be captured within 24 hours. American and Australian jungle fighters inched their way forward from the air base.

Collapse of the Munda defenses, a spokesman pointed out, will leave only isolated enemy resistance at Bairoko Harbor and in scattered jungle areas of New Georgia. Once the air base is taken, these remnants can be left to starve beyond the reach of reinforcements.

ADVANCE PRICE CONTROL ON LIQUOR

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Taking another step in advancing the price control program on alcoholic beverages, OPA today issued a price reporting requirement covering all domestic wines.

Forms and provisions under the new regulation which becomes effective Aug. 11 are almost identical with the recent provisions of the same type issued to cover domestic distilled spirits.

Brand owners have 30 days until Sept. 10, within which to file the required information on all brands sold in March, 1942.

SIGHTSEEING IN NEW YORK FATAL TO YOUNGSTER, 9

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Nine-year-old Stephen Rowe Bradley, III, in New York on his first sightseeing tour with his parents, fell to his death today in an accident caused by his own curiosity.

He fell from a sixth floor hotel window ledge where he had climbed to look at the skyscrapers of downtown New York after coming here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bradley, Jr., socially prominent Lowell, Mass., residents.

Gold was discovered in the northern part of Georgia in 1828-29.

Wife Of Accused Count Convinced That He's Innocent

Stands By Him As He Faces
Charges Of Slaying Her
Wealthy Father

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Nancy Oakes De Marigny, wife of Count Alfred De Marigny, accused slayer of her wealthy baronet father, Sir Harry Oakes, is not only convinced of her husband's innocence but intends to leave nothing undone in his defense, the New York Journal-American disclosed today in an exclusive interview.

"I'm here to do what I can to help my husband," the 19-year-old heiress told a reporter who met her at Laguardia field, en route from Miami. "I know he's innocent. It's a little hard on us all now, but in the end . . ."

"I don't know how long I'll stay," she said. "No, I don't know what my family is going to do." "I saw so little of Alfred . . . You see, I could only see him a couple of times a week, for half an hour, and then in the presence of the Nassau prison superintendent. My husband looks thin, but his spirits are good. He is now a 'nagard,' as has been reported."

She spoke in a soft voice with a slight British accent.

"There was a story in Nassau that Alfred had special quarters. That isn't so. He hasn't even outdoor garden privileges like other inmates, until he is tried. British court procedure is slow. His window is too high to see out of. All I can do is send him fruit."

The heiress was angered by "grossly exaggerated rumors" which included, she said, "that my husband and father didn't get along. That was untrue—Island gossip."

Plainly but smartly dressed in a simple black skirt and jacket with a flimsy white blouse, Nancy said she didn't know the Duke of Windsor, said to be vitally concerned in the case, although he was a friend of her father's.

"There is one hopeful element," she added, "at first people were against Alfred. Father was a very respected figure and a lot of natives lost their jobs through his passing. But they have seen the police haven't produced any definite evidence, and feeling has calmed down and is swinging toward our side. My husband was very popular, especially with sailors."

What did her husband say when she flew to his side?

"He knew I'd come," she said stoutly. "His smile lit up and his spirits seemed to soar. I know he depends on me—and my faith in him. I don't know why this awful thing happened."

Feels 20 Years Younger, Ho Says!

Everyone who has despaired of ever finding normal regularity should read this unsolicited letter:

"Six years ago, I was quite fatigued. I taken to the 'cure' because of the old story. It seemed that each day had to be stronger than the last. Then, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Soon I was 'regular' again, with none of the old trouble. I am now 70 years old, and more than 20 years ago when I was a victim of common constipation." Mr. A. Bousfield, 426 S. Villa Ave., Villa Park, Ill.

What's the secret of such remarkable results? It's simply this: Lack of certain cellulose elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. Scientists say KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is a rich, natural source of these elements—which help the colonie flora do their job—lightening and flushing the accumulated waste for easy, natural evacuation. ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Not roughage that acts by "sweeping you out!" It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

Eat ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't feel the relief you've dreamed of! insist on the genuine ALL-BRAN! It is made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek,

ATLANTIC LOSSES DECLINE STEADILY SINCE MAY FIRST

Allies Hold Upper Hand Against U-Boat Menace; Shipping Improved
By JOSEPH A. BORS
C. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Despite German boast that a new large scale submarine offensive is now underway in the Atlantic, the steady decline in merchant ship sinkings since May 1 indicated strongly today that the Allies hold the upper hand against U-boats.

Since May 1 records show there has been a sharp drop in the number of successful U-boat attacks against merchant ships in the Atlantic and a corresponding decrease in the number of merchant marine casualties.

In March the navy reported 19 merchant vessels torpedoed and only 8 during July.

These successes have been due to a number of coordinated factors: Better patrols off shore by blimps and planes and better protection for convoys in the mid-Atlantic by destroyer-escort ships and small carriers.

May Increase In Fall

While merchant ship sinkings may again increase especially during bad weather periods this fall and winter, the belief is growing in official circles that by that time escort vessel production (including small carriers) will have overcome any increased menace.

A survey of merchant marine casualty figures and announced submarine attacks during the past few months showed that, for the time being, at least, the Allies have broken the force of the U-boat offensive.

The trend in favor of the Allies became evident shortly after Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U.S. fleet and chief of naval operations, last March announced that American, Canadian and British leaders had agreed on plans to smash the submarine menace.

For instance, the navy in March announced 19 merchant vessels were torpedoed. This dropped in April to 12 and rose again in May to 17.

In June it dropped to 14 and in July to 8.

Casual Lists Smaller
The improved shipping conditions were also reflected dramatically in the merchant marine casualty lists that period.

For the period covering March 1 to March 31, the navy announced 42 seamen dead and 250 missing as the result of enemy action. The following month the figure jumped to 11 dead and 346 missing.

However, the figures for May showed a heartening slump: 22 dead and only 52 missing. In June it rose slightly to 16 dead and 82 missing.

The marine casualty list for July has not yet been made public but in view of the fact that only eight torpedoes were announced during the period there is no doubt the total will be quite low.

Secretary of the Navy Knox has warned repeatedly that while the Allies appear to be winning the battle of the Atlantic, sinkings may increase at any time as the result of various factors: More U-boats, new tactics, improved submarines.

LIBRARIAN RETURNS

Miss Alice Joyce, junior librarian at the public library, has returned to her desk after a mid-summer vacation.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters do not work well, poison can collect in the blood. These poisons may start causing backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up painful, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or constant passing of urine and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. That's why! Ask your doctor for a kidney pill. Pills will help millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poison waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd
Will Fill Pulpit At Central Sunday

Dr. C. B. Wingerd, former pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, who has been at Stuart, Fla., for several years, and at present is located at Chautauqua, N. Y., will occupy the pulpit in the Central church here on Sunday morning.

Central church pastor, Dr. Robert M. Patterson, is enjoying a vacation during the month of August and Dr. Wingerd is one of the supply ministers.

Dr. Wingerd was widely known throughout New Castle during his many years of service here, and doubtless will be welcomed by many of his friends at the service Sunday.

KURSU'S SON, JAP ARMY FLIER, WOULD BOMB WHITE HOUSE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Saburo Kurusu, who flew to the United States to talk "peace" while the Japanese completed preparations for their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, has a son who, according to Japanese propagandists, plans to fly to this country, too.

Ryo Kurusu, according to the Japanese propaganda agency, Domei, in a story for occupied Asia, will fly here "for the same purpose" as his father, "in an attempt to convince Roosevelt".

But as an army flier, said the Japanese propaganda dispatch, Kurusu would not use words, but "bombs and machine-gun bullets".

The Domei dispatch was recorded by United States government monitors.

HARMONY LINE HEARINGS START

(International News Service)

HARMONY, Aug. 5.—Hearings in a dispute between the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation company, Pittsburgh, and the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway & Motor Coach Employees, local 1067, will begin today at the Steel City.

The dispute involves approximately 100 bus drivers and maintenance workers. There are a total of 19 issues growing out of negotiations for a new contract between the union and the company. The company is presently operating under a stipulation extending the former contract, which has expired.

Cass Tells Lions Of Vocational Work In Local Schools

City Schools' Vocational Director Speaks On Work Being Done Here

Earl M. Cass, vocational education director of the New Castle schools, gave an interesting talk to members of the New Castle Lions club at their noon meeting Wednesday in which he reviewed the work which has been done in industrial arts, vocational education and war production work in the past three years.

He stated that next year the industrial arts classes will be broadened to include pupils from the eighth grade, and it is hoped that vocational education will be made an elective subject in the Senior high school shortly.

He pictured a shift away from machine work towards other forms of vocational education, such as combustion engineering, etc. He also foresaw closer cooperation with industries in education, and later rehabilitation work for soldiers returning home incapacitated.

Mr. Cass also explained the financial setup, stating that two-thirds of the cost of salaries are borne by the state and federal governments, and war production work has been financed 100 per cent by these sources.

In looking into the future, he felt that more federal support would be granted, but warned against accepting federal aid without state or local control.

Two new members were accepted and will be inducted at a later date.

Kilsoo Haan Urges Relief Be Sent To Prisoners Of Japs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 5.—Charging that "thousands of Americans" in Japanese prison camps have died of malnutrition and torture since Pearl Harbor, Kilsoo Haan, representative of the Sino-Korean Peoples' League, today urged that relief be sent to these prisoners immediately.

Haan, who gained national recognition for his expose of Japanese war plans before and since the formal beginning of hostilities, disclosed that he had advised the American State Department of the findings of his underground agents in the Far East.

He asserted that more than 10 per cent of all Americans in Japan prison camps recently died of diseases brought on by malnutrition and mistreatment.

Legal Guardian Is Chosen For Son Of Late Joe C. Trees

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 5.—Oliver K. Eaton, well-known Pittsburgh attorney, today was the new legal guardian of the 13-year-old son of the late oil millionaire, Joe C. Trees, who died several months ago.

Eaton was named by the orphans court to oversee the financial activities of Joseph Benedum Trees, son of "Wildcatter" Joe Trees, and to explore and report back to the court on a proposal made by M. L. Benedum, life-long partner of Trees, that all the interest of the Trees estate in the Penn Ohio Oil Company be turned over to himself.

The trustees of the estate, Mrs. Edith L. Trees, the widow, Frank A. Willison, long a confidential associate of Trees, and the Colonial Trust Company, in a petition to the court declared that Benedum, under his plan, pledged himself to continue to finance the company as he and Trees had done together in the past.

Vulcanizes Girdle At Filling Station

GENESO, Ill., Aug. 5.—A Genesee filling station attendant came up today with a suggestion on one way to keep the feminine population in shape in spite of wartime shortages.

Ira Wert, the attendant, reported a woman came to him with a damaged girdle, asking if it could be repaired. Wert did an A-1 vulcanizing job which took 15 minutes.

"She went home completely satisfied with the results," Wert declared.

God Shows His People the Way

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Miriam.

"Jehovah is my strength and song, and He is become my salvation." Exodus 15:2.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 8 is Exodus 13-15, the Golden Text being Exodus 15:2. "Jehovah is my strength and song, and He is become my salvation.") beast should be dedicated to the Lord.

Moses had arranged the setting forth from Egypt at dawn so that all the company, from the various places where the Israelites had settled, could come together. If they had not departed thus the Egyptians themselves would have driven them out, for none felt safe with the Israelites in their midst after the dreadful plagues. Thus all were gathered together to hear Moses proclaim the word of God to them.

The Lord did not lead His people out of Egypt through the land of the Philistines, which was near, because the Philistines were at war, and He feared they might repent when they saw war and return to Egypt. So He led them through the wilderness of the Red sea.

Take Joseph's Bones

Do you remember that when Joseph died in Egypt he made those gathered about his bed to take oath that they would gather up his bones and take them with them when they left Egypt? So Moses took Joseph's bones with them, and the procession wended its way toward the Red sea. "And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night."

God commanded Moses to take the children of Israel to encamp by the sea, "for Pharaoh will say of the children of Israel, they are entangled in the land, the wilderness hath shut them in."

Now when it was told the king of Egypt that the Israelites had fled, he and his servants were sorry that they had consented to their exodus, for they missed the services they had given them. So Pharaoh made ready 600 chosen chariots, all the chariots of Egypt, and a captain over each chariot, and his horsemen and army, and followed after the Hebrews to bring them back.

When the Israelites saw the host coming, they immediately began to complain to Moses saying, "Because there was no graves in Egypt, has thou taken us away to die in the wilderness?" wherefore hast thou dealt with us, to carry us out of Egypt?"

But Moses answered them, "Fear not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which He will shew to you today: for the Egyptians whom ye have seen today, ye shall see no more forever."

Moses commanded the Israelites to form a column, facing a certain portion of the shore; to load their beasts, bring their cattle together and have everything in readiness for a start. Moses stood at the head of the column with his rod in his hand, and he stretched out his hand over the sea. At once a strong east wind or northeast wind blew and drove the upper water of the shallow bay toward the west or south, and the lower water in the opposite direction so the bed of the sea was laid bare and the Israelites walked over in safety.

The Egyptians doubtless thought they could do the same, and went in after them their chariots and horsemen—all the vast army. The angel of the Lord "troubled the Egyptians," took off their chariot wheels so that they drove heavily through the sand, and the Egyptians became frightened and said, "Let us flee from the face of Israel: for the Lord fighteth for them against the Egyptians."

It was too late, for Moses, on the other side of the sea, raised his rod, the water came together and buried the Egyptians, their men, horses, chariots and all. Not one was left, and "Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore."

Thus was Israel saved, and Moses and all the children of Israel sang this song unto the Lord:

"I will sing unto the Lord, for He hath triumphed gloriously;

"The horse and his rider hath He thrown into the sea.

"The Lord is my strength and song."

"And He is my salvation."

And Miriam, the prophetess, sister of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances.

SUITE ONCE JACK BENNY'S NOW HAS 30 SAILORS IN IT

Eight-Million Dollar Luxury Liner Veteran Troopship, Hospital

By ART COHN
(C. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC, Aug. 5.—

Dear Boss, Jack Benny may be interested to learn that thirty men are sleeping in the suite he had on one of his trips from Honolulu to San Francisco.

The floating penthouse, including two bathrooms, cost Benny $1200 for the five-day cruise but thousands of American soldiers, sailors and marines now ride the $8,000,000 luxury liner free.

Once the scene of some of the most lavish parties ever held on the Pacific today it is one of our most important troop transports coming west and a hospital ship going home.

Luxury Transformed

Its famous bar is now a dispensary. Its dance pavilion is now a sick bay, able to accommodate 132 patients. Its smoking room, paneled in redwood, is now lined with berths four deep. Its lounge, of combination architecture decorated with pine gold leaf and South Sea Island seashell at a cost of $350,000, is filled with bunks.

The liner has been commuting between the United States and the Southwest Pacific since December 10, 1942 without the loss of a man.

That, considering the tens of thousands of men it has carried through some of the war's most perilous waters, is its proudest of many records.

Medical Staff Miracles

A medical staff of four officers and a crew of 45 has worked miracles aboard the ship. It is prepared for every emergency, from delivering a baby to performing a brain operation. The greatest healer of all, though, is the knowledge of returning home.

"We have had as many as 98 men brought aboard on stretchers . . . and every one walked off the gangplank in San Francisco," one doctor told me.

The crew is qualified to discharge 1500 patients in an hour and is also trained to get every one over the side in case of abandoning ship.

The steward, however, has one suggestion which may be unfeasible, but for which he earnestly requests consideration.

Arrival Is Bleak

"We bring thousands of boys home," he said, "most of 'em have been through hell, many are wounded, ed or sick. They enjoy themselves on the boat but then comes the biggest letdown of all . . . the day they arrive."

"It seems a shame they have to be sneaked into the United States. The hush-hush is terrific, the area is roped off, nobody is at the dock to see them come back. This is the moment they have been dreaming about and praying for all those months. All they see is a bleak, dreary dock . . ."

"It would make all the difference in the world if someone was there to welcome them back but, most important, if there were a band down there playing as they came in. You don't know what that would mean to those kids . . ."

Hoping you will tune up your glockenspiel and will be on the pier when I get home, boss, I am,

Yours, A. C.

P.S.—If you see Jack Benny tell him that if he wants his old suite on the S.S. Yougues to put on his sailor suit and I'll try to fix it up with the other 30 gobs using it.

Asserts Civilians Not To Be Forced To 'Bedrock' Status

War Production Board Official Says Essential Domestic Needs To Be Filled

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(C. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—War Production Board Vice-Chairman Arthur D. Whiteside today said that the war will not force the American civilian population down to bare subsistence levels of a "bedrock" economy and that essential wartime domestic needs can be filled.

In his first full-dress report since taking office more than three months ago, Whiteside emphatically rejected the "bedrock" theory for civilian needs which caused an uproar in Congress several months ago.

"We do not advocate forcing the civilian population down to bare subsistence levels in the present military situation," he said.

Whiteside, who was appointed WPB civilian supply chief at a time when Congress wanted to divorce civilian requirements from WPB and create an independent agency, presented a nine-point statement of policy which said civilians will not be asked for "unnecessary sacrifices".

"We must insure that all minimum essential civilian requirements are met and in addition that all national resources above that level which cannot be employed effectively to meet our military and foreign policy needs are utilized to supply civilians," the report stated.

"By wise use of about the same quantities of materials that have been made available for civilian production during recent months, essential civilian services and the production of essential civilian goods can be maintained. The needs of the war at present permits no other course."

The WPB official warned, however, that the fact that certain essential articles will be produced does not mean that the office of civilian requirements intends to re-open substantial manufacture of many items formerly produced for civilians.

RECIPE GIVEN FOR "SAUTE OF SOLDIER"

(International News Service)
JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 5—If ever you want to mix some "Saute of soldier" you might use this recipe of the wife of an army captain at the Jackson Air Base. She is Mrs. Nathaniel Warring, and here is her contribution to cooking: "Take one draftee, slightly green. Stir from bed at an early hour. Soak in shower or tub daily. Dress in olive drab. Mix with others of his kind. Grate on sergeant's nerves. Toughesten with maneuvers. Add liberal portions of baked beans and roast beef. Season with wind, rain, sun and snow. Sweeten from time to time with chocolate bars. Let degree occasionally. Bake in 110 degree temperature summer and let cool in below zero winter. Serving 140,000,000 people."

MARINE DESCRIBES MOVE OUTFLANKING AIRBASE AT MUNDA

Capture Of Enogai Tough Job Done By Marine Raiders, Army Troopers

The following article was written by Technical Sgt. Murray Marder, of Philadelphia, Pa., a Marine Corps combat correspondent.

Distributed By International News Service

ENOGAI INLET, New Georgia July 10.—(Delayed)—Conquerors of the Japanese and the jungle, marine raiders and army troopers who captured Enogai and established the northern prong of a steel pincer outflanking the enemy's airbase at Munda, sprawled on the coral sands of Dragon Peninsula today.

To reach Enogai inlet, United States forces crawled hand over hand through ravines, struggled through knee-deep muck of swamps, waded rivers and wriggled through the roots of giant Banyan trees.

These were the hardships faced and overcome by the forces under the command of Col. Harry B. Liversedge, U. S. M. C., forces including the marine raiders of Tulagi and Guadalcanal fame under the leadership of Lt. Col. Samuel B. Griffith, U. S. M. C. Frankfort, Ky., and formerly of 6615 Darlington Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa.

We left Rice Anchorage—a comparatively small group—several hours before dawn on July 5.

Here are a few notes made on July 7, the third day of the trail. "We stumbled through swamps all day. The communication men, with their heavy radio and telephone gear, were slowed to a crawl. It is raining again. We haven't washed or removed our clothes since we started. We just plod along quietly, dragging one foot after the other, covered with mud and soaked in sweat.

"We had made our first kill. Advance units of the raiders brushed a Jap patrol at Maranusa and Triri.

"This time it is a fairly sizeable force—some 150 Jap troopers and naval landing force men. They defend a jungle outpost called Triri. The raiders sweep down on it like hounds after rabbits. By nightfall some 75 Jap bodies are scattered around the little coral ridge which marks Triri.

"Now, some of our buddies are dead, too, although but a handful compared to the Jap toll. We bring them in to the shattered Japanese command post. Sticks are cut for crosses and the bark shaved off so that they will stand up above the graves against the dark jungle. To the crosses are affixed the identification tags of the dead."

Rations were exhausted. The rice that was left was reserved for the wounded.

At noon came the word from Lt. Col. Griffith. "We are 600 yards from Enogai. Our advance is continuing."

In the afternoon our planes finally located us to drop parachutes with sorely needed ammunition and rations.

With dawn of July 10 the Marines opened up on Enogai with a murderous barrage of mortar fire. Japanese soldiers raced about their camp as if terror-stricken. Now and then a grenade sailed up at the attackers on the ridge, but the Japs offered little organized resistance.

Col. Liversedge, Lt. Col. Griffith and Capt. Clay Boyd, narrowly escaped death in the assault. The trio walked into the line of fire of a hidden Japanese machine gun nest, protected by snipers.

All three officers escaped injury, but Second Lt. Philip A. Oldham, of Philadelphia, veteran of Guadalcanal, was killed as he blasted the nest.

It is estimated that 350 Japs were killed in the campaign, including those at Maranusa and Triri.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

HARRISBURG—When Pfc. David A. White, 21, of Hartford, Conn., an ambulance driver in North Africa, was wounded, he received a blood plasma transfusion. Returned to the United States, he stopped at the Harrisburg Red Cross Blood Donor Service. "I am giving back the blood in the hope it will save the life of another soldier," he explained.

STATE COLLEGE—Forty-eight girls are majoring in courses in the School of Agriculture at Pennsylvania State College during the summer session. More than half are enrolled in medical technology.

CHESTER—As far as two English sailors are concerned, the lowly hamburger is America's national dish. On a visit to Chester, the two English lads, when asked what they liked to buy when in the United States, replied, "hamburgers."

PHILIPSBURG—They tested the new air raid alarm horn in Philipsburg the other night. A local writer, describing the results, said "the horn sounded much like an automobile horn which was stuck."

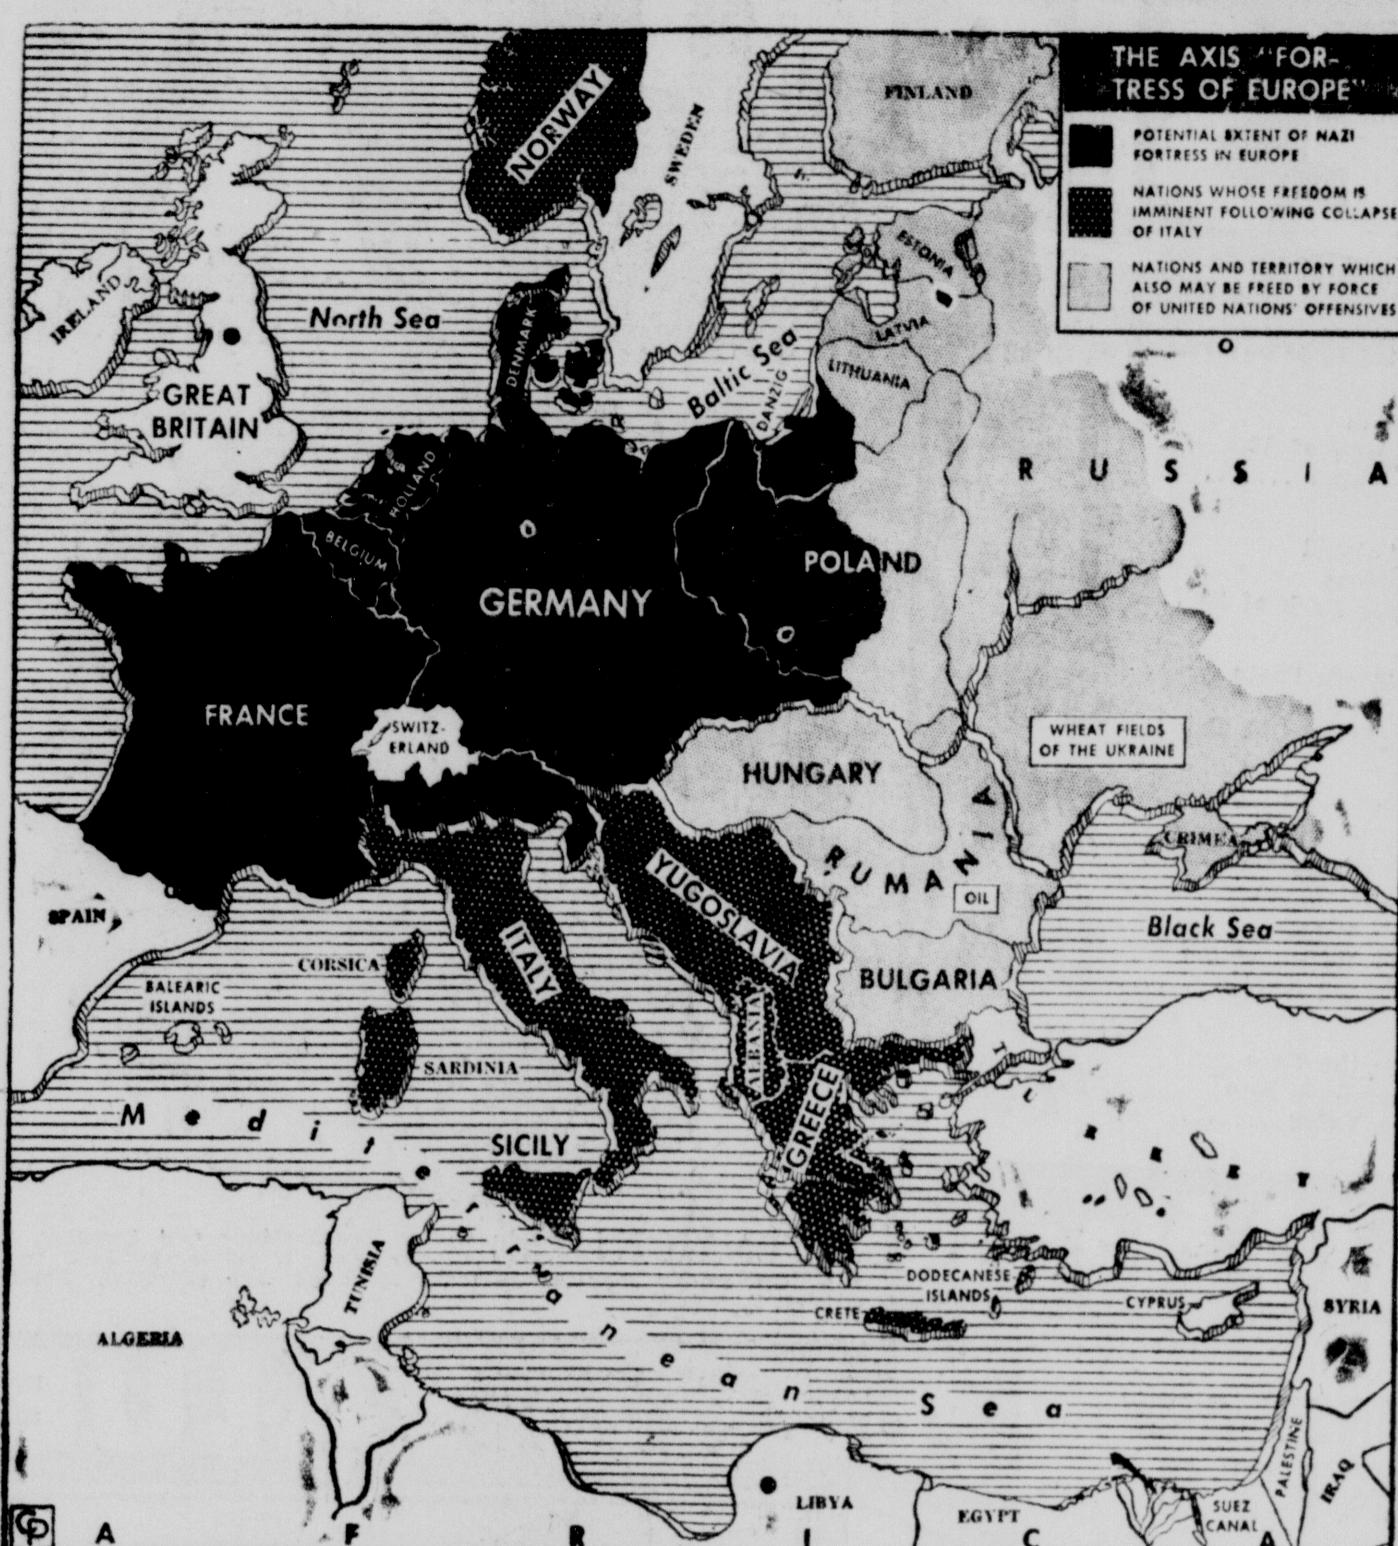

CARLISLE—Portable hospitals operated only 300 to 400 yards from the main line of action in New Guinea. Lt. Col. Leon S. Eagleberger of the Army Medical Corps related upon his return to the U. S. after eight months there. Doctors were treating stomach wounds within an hour and a half after the wounds were inflicted.

DUNBAR—The service flag in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Cortese bears six stars now, two of them gold. A seventh will be added in another year when Nick Salvatore becomes 18. One of their sons was killed at Pearl Harbor, another is missing in action, three more are in service and their one daughter, Mary Cortese, has now joined the Waves.

JOHNSTOWN—Harry Reeze, 59, of Twinrocks has had seven months in which to reflect on what a sound sleeper he is. Seven months ago he fell asleep while sitting in front of a coal stove at his home. He has been in the hospital ever since recovering from severe burns.

PHILADELPHIA—The smallest measurement known to man has been made by two Temple University physicists. Drs. J. Lloyd Bohn and Francis H. Nadig have perfected a machine which measures to one-half of 1/10,000,000th inch.

CRACKS APPEAR IMMINENT IN "FESTUNG EUROPE"

Large portions of Europe soon may be split from Axis Europe, according to indications following the collapse of Italy's Fascist government. As shown on the above map, some occupied countries allied with the United Nations soon may find freedom again while, at the same time, increasing signs of defection in ranks of Axis satellites indicate that some may drop from Hitler's lineup.

IT'S LUCKY SERVICEMEN WHO'LL GET THEIR BLOOD!

MANY SERVICEMEN probably wouldn't mind being wounded so much if they could be assured they would get the blood plasma donated by the sextet of beauties pictured above. They are six of the 87 beauties who helped boost the Twentieth Century-Fox studio's Red Cross blood bank quota over the top. Left to right are June Wayne, Eileen Fenwick, Gerrie Noonan, Nancy Savoy, Ruth Markham and Marilyn Hope. The Hollywood studio over-subscribed by 38 donations.

Report Barroom In Hotel Is Locked

Developments today indicate the possibility of there being no necessity of taking of testimony Monday, August 9, in the injunction suit brought against P. D. Guarneri, Julian Bonanni and Frank Guarneri, of the Excelsior Hotel (formerly the Savage Hotel) on East Washington street. The petition of the district attorney asks for a padlock order upon the barroom of the hotel.

Today it was learned the hotel barroom is locked and the license taken from the walls. The license is to be turned over to the attorney, it is understood.

This would amount to the action asked for by Mr. Donaldson in his injunction proceeding.

ANT TRAPS SAVE CROPS

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO—Ant hordes, attacking in the victory gardens of California, are being held back by a poison-trap method of defense. The traps are attached to wooden pegs driven firmly into the ground. At first heavy losses of ant-clip pegs through wood decay and termite attack were reported, but pressure-treatment of these pegs with a salts preservative has reduced cost to a minimum through elimination of replacement. Thousands of these cups with treated pegs are going into service forewarning victory over Victory Garden ants.

During city council meeting held in the municipal building today, council acted favorably upon a bill submitted by Streets Director James Gibson. It provides for the removal of the bag mill of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company and its erection upon the city-owned site in Taylor street. The building was presented to the city by the Greater New Castle Association and will be used to house a street department equipment. The building is said to be worth at least $7,000.

American Legion's representatives Chester Sweezy and Walter Dietter Thursday appealed from the $9,000 assessment on a lot in the rear of the Legion home. The former assessment was $7,000. The gas station which is on the site is assessed separate. The appeal was referred to the board of tax revision.

City council convened today with county commissioners and a representative of the school board present. Council explained that the city desires to dispose of some lots acquired through city tax sale in the vicinity of Delaware avenue and Clemmore boulevard. Council explained the taking of bids recently of Dale Andrews' desire to build more houses here and also he agreed to pay for the advertisement if the lots were not sold. They also explained that Dr. John P. Prioretti submitted a written bid. Andrews did not because he thought it was to be oral bidding in council meeting, they stated. The city explained they are anxious to have homes erected to put the lots back on a tax paying basis. The price for which the lots are sold will be pro rated among the three bodies to pay off liens. No taxes have been paid on them for years. A decision as to what to do in the matter will come later. Meanwhile, council has asked for bids on 10 other lots in the district not yet sold.

Sees Possible Labor Draft To Spur Production

Senate Military Affairs Committee Member Sees Drastic Step As Likely

By ELLIOTT HAYES
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Sen. Char Gurney (R) N. D., member of the Senate military affairs committee, today said there is a possibility of labor draft in the United States if war production continues to lag.

"The people must realize that they must put in a full day's work every day if we are going to win this war," Gurney asserted in commenting on warnings from WPB Chief Donald Nelson and Lieut. Gen. Breton B. Somervell that production is behind schedule.

It was learned, meanwhile, that WPB officials are greatly concerned over an extraordinary high labor turnover rate which is now at about eight percent per month in all manufacturing establishments. The extent to which war workers are quitting their jobs and taking new ones elsewhere is said to be partly responsible, at least, for recent disappointing war production trends.

Gurney said that "if the general staff tells Congress that the troops are not getting the arms, equipment and other materiel required in war, then we shall have to act."

"What form that action will take is problematical, but I can see how it could easily be in the form of a labor draft under which every man, woman and child would be compelled to make sacrifices for the benefit of the armed forces," Gurney said.

Sen. Abe Murdock (D) Utah, expressed a similar opinion, pointing out that the whole war effort might be imperiled in its midst by failure of people on the home front to "come through."

PURSUE NEW CLUE IN OAKES MYSTERY

(International News Service)
NASSAU, Aug. 5—New photographs of the flame-seared bedroom in which Sir Harry Oakes, American-born multi-millionaire, was slain July 7 were to be taken today to establish the original position of a screen on which Edward Melchen, Miami detective, said he found fingerprints on Sir Harry's son-in-law, Count Alfred De Marigny.

Melchen testified yesterday at a preliminary hearing of murder charges against De Marigny that photos already submitted in evidence showed the screen had been moved since Sir Harry's body was discovered.

Leaders Will Ask N.L.R.B. For Jurisdictional Vote After Workers Decision

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 5.—United Mine Workers district 50 leaders planned to ask the national labor relations board today for a jurisdictional vote following yesterday's decision favoring the interruption of wartime production as the result of a labor union dispute.

Union officials declared that in any event no strike is contemplated at present in the two Springfield Allis-Chalmers Company war plants, where the controversy exists and where yesterday's vote was taken.

With 2,200 employees eligible to vote 1,850 votes were cast on the work stoppage proposal. Favoring a stoppage were 1,005 workers while 836 voted no. Nine ballots were voided. The strike vote was first in the nation conducted under the Smith-Connally anti-strike law.

The balloting climaxed a contest over bargaining rights at the two plants between UMWA District 50 and Local 120 of the United Farm Equipment & Metal Workers, a CIO affiliate. The CIO union has contractual relations with the company and urged the strike vote. The NLRB earlier denied a jurisdictional vote at the plants.

TYPEWRITERS, NOT TIDES, TAUGHT WAVES

(International News Service)

KEANSBURG, N. J., Aug. 5—Two little Waves explained today that after all they had been trained for their work not for the sea.

Their explanations were in order because the girls, Frances Rice, 23, and Margaret Roach, 22, both yeomen, third class, of Washington, were missing overnight in a 12-foot boat with four children.

Yeomen Rice and Roach explained that they didn't notice the tide was going out until the current made it impossible for them to row back. A coast guard unit (male) rescued the shivering, thoroughly chilled party of six in lower New York harbor.

CONDUCTOR OF POLL SUES LEO CARRILLO, WOULD-BE GOVERNOR

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5—Screen actor Leo Carrillo, who considered running for governor of California last election, today was named in a $3750 law suit.

William Richman, public relations counsel, charged that Carrillo intended to conduct a poll of "certain prominent citizens" in 1941 to determine whether the actor should become a candidate for governor. Richman said he was not paid for his research.

NO BLACK MARKET

IN ELECTRICITY!

BLACK MARKETS spring up in the trail of shortages.

There are no Black Markets in electricity because there are no shortages.

War production calls for tremendous amounts of electric power. But every industrial demand has been met—and every essential civilian need has been satisfied.

We're proud of the job our industry has done under experienced business management. But one word of caution is in order.

Electricity depends, in part, upon fuel and transportation. Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed!

FOR A FAMILY FEAST—
Honey, Fig and Nut Sandwich
3/4 cup dried figs, ground
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
Few grains salt
6 slices Bell Enriched White Bread
Butter or fortified margarine
1—Combine first 8 ingredients, mix together until thoroughly blended.
2—Spread 3 slices bread with butter or margarine.
3—Spread filling on remaining slices of bread.
4—Put sandwiches together.
(Makes 3 sandwiches)

Got MEAL-PLANNING Problems?

Many homemakers have found Bell Enriched White Bread a big help in planning a variety of delicious dishes. For example—luscious bread pudding . . . economical meat-loaves . . . "on-toast" dishes . . . and for SANDWICHES.

Bell Enriched White Bread is flavor baked with Wheat Hearts, the richest, most vital part of the grain. It's famous for flavor-rich in food energy—a big food-value for wartime meals.

Bell Enriched White Bread is specially good for SANDWICHES because every slice is smooth and even and perfect.

Order Bell Enriched White Bread today. It's Policed for Freshness.

MIDDLE THREE ANNOUNCE CARD, FOOTBALL POLICY

Lafayette, Lehigh, Rutgers To Play Among Themselves; Bar Trainee Schools

(Special To The News)

EASTON, Aug. 5.—The Middle Three, Lafayette, Lehigh and Rutgers, will engage in home and home football games this fall and agreed to exclude from their schedules all colleges and universities playing Naval and Marine Reserves, it was announced today, since only civilian students will be permitted to play on the Middle Three elevens.

Each institution was also given permission to schedule a fifth contest, and it was decided to start practice the last week in September.

Card Six Games

The schedule arranged for the coming season is as follows:

October 23—Lehigh vs. Lafayette at Easton.

October 30—Lehigh vs. Rutgers at New Brunswick.

November 6—Lafayette vs. Rutgers at New Brunswick.

November 13—Rutgers vs. Lehigh at Bethlehem.

November 20—Rutgers vs. Lafayette at Easton.

November 27—Lafayette vs. Lehigh at Bethlehem.

The suggestion to play home and home games came from the presidents when Lafayette was uncertain whether to continue football; and Rutgers had about decided to abandon the sport for the duration. Lehigh alone made known its determination to continue football, whatever the adverse conditions.

Man Without Job

Sports Ramblings

Squibs fashioned hurriedly:

If you care to stomp the district's John Kierans of sports, start talking about the numerous coaching changes. So many mentors have either resigned or accepted new posts that a "Who's Who in Coaching" is the most popular book in sports departments, in view of the fact that a mentor always is worth a paragraph or two on a quiet day.

The latest shift finds Sandy Lake High coachless. John Rubeis, the Croton strategist who concocted one of the strongest cage units in the history of the Mercer county school, has resigned to remain in his United Engineering post here. Grove City High, New Castle's first foe, has named Robert "Ike" Smiley as head man. Smiley hitherto served as Gene Forker's right-hand "looney." Forker is now in the Navy.

Joe Factor, energetic sports follower, says that the United Engineering plant expects to go all-out for athletics. Which means that the firm will be represented in all local sports. "Sparky" Morelli, a seasoned athlete guy, has been added to the United Engineering Softball league advisory board.

Added stuff: Steve O'Neil of the Tigers, says he favors the Yankees to win the American league title. Who doesn't? As chronicled here a few days back, Commander Gene Tunney has arrived for overseas duty in connection with the Navy's physical training program. He's in Honolulu . . . Bucky Harris, the Phils' tossed-out manager, has two mementos from the Brothly Love Town. He got a wrist watch and a boot!

Back from "over there," Henry (UPI) McLemore, one of my favorite writing guys and a former sports scribe, says about athletics: "Any-one attempting to curtail sports in this country these days is guilty of an out-and-out unpatriotic act. If you think this is a ridiculous statement, spend a few months abroad and find out, I did. The major interest of a soldier in leisure time is what is happening in athletics back home. The sports page of 'The Stars and Stripes' is the biggest single morale builder in the European theater of operations."

Pennsy Commission Sets Goal Of 65,000 For Game Trapping

(International News Service)

There a four-run rally in the seventh inning climaxed by Vince DiMaggio's 13th home run of the season, gave the Pirates a 6 to 2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies last night. Schooley Rose started for Freddie Fitzsimmons club but had to retire in the seventh. Lefty Al Gerhauser replaced him and allowed two of the four runs to be charged with a loss. The attendance was 10,417.

Today's only activity will be at Chicago where the Cubs will take on the Reds, after which all clubs will swing back into action tomorrow.

Perpetual Runner Up

He has been the perpetual runner-up of the past—always a bat-wish or two behind the DiMaggios and the Williams, but they are gone now and the rest can't quite keep up with the stock outfitter from Maryland despite the fact that he was laid up a couple of weeks and therefore misses chances to belt three or four more than his current total.

After going hitless in the first game of a double header with the Detroit Tigers, Keller came back in the nightcap Tuesday with three hits, including home runs No. 16 and 17. With a third of the season, or a little more, still left to play, he should windup with some thing like 24 four-masters. Not terrific, to be sure. Only in the neighborhood of half the record total of 60 established by Babe Ruth, but it isn't exactly bush league slugging either.

Rain again washed out the benefit contest scheduled for Wednesday evening between the Fannings and the V. F. W. Juniors of Ellwood City. This was the second postponement of the contest because of wet grounds.

Arrangements have been made to play the game at Marshall Field, on August 11.

Friday evening, the Fannings will play Ramblers at Washington Field, in a Legion league game, and Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, they will play the Legion All Stars in an exhibition contest.

Westminster Grid Future Is Doubtful

Game Not Canceled As Yet;
Decision Will Be Made
Within Two Weeks

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 5.—Within the next two weeks, Westminster college's football destiny—for the duration—will become a reality.

Interviewed via phone, Coach Grover C. Washabaugh, when asked to confirm or deny a report that the Titans already had abandoned the pigskin game, declared:

Report Is False

"That report is false. While the situation is a bit shaky, we have not as yet canceled football. Action will be taken at a meeting scheduled within the next two weeks."

While the school's student body includes Navy trainees, who are eligible to participate, it's not known whether or not enough material can be assembled through this medium to keep the sport intact.

A new list of trainees arrive Friday and it is believed that the group may include enough gridironers to fill out the greatly depleted grid ranks and thus prevent the sport from being junked.

Three Games Booked

As of today, Westminster has three games still remaining on the schedule, one with Carnegie Tech another with Geneva and a third with Bethany. If football escapes the axe, home and home tilts may be carded with these foes. In addition, the Titans may book one or two more opponents.

The basketball situation, Washabaugh said, would be forgotten until the court game rolls near the starting post.

COACH RETAINED

St. Louis University has dropped football but Dukes DuFour, coach, will be retained to train students.

PAIGE'S NO-HIT NO-RUN STREAK BROKEN IN 11TH

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Satchel Paige, lanky star of the Kansas City Negro Monarchs today had yielded four hits in five innings to break his string of 11 consecutive no-hits no-run frames.

The Monarchs, however, took an easy 5-1 victory from the Philadelphia Stars, before a crowd of 12,000 at Shibe park. The victory went to Greed McKinnis, left-handed rookie from Birmingham, who retired the opposition on strikes with 13 pitches in the first inning.

Morgrets Bag 9th; Top Lohmans, 16-4

Continuing to hammer the ball mercilessly, the Morgrets stretched their skein to nine straight by annihilating the Lohmans, 16-4, Wednesday night at Dean Park.

Andy Russo rifled a homer. Raymond Genack, Morelli and Nahas divided hitting honors for the winners. Micaletti and Zuk featured for the losers.

Morgrets play the Baur team tonight at 6 o'clock, on B. T. W. field.

Score by innings:

R.H.E.
Lohmans 020 110 0—4 10 5
Morgrets 204 343—16 15 3
Batteries: Lohmans Padula, Runge and Tex Richards; Morgrets: DiCarlo, Clark, Russo and Parshall. Umpires: Don Edgar and Ted Turco.

NEW PROMISE ON GAS RATION ACTION SOON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown said Wednesday eastern motorists can look forward to action next week on the pleasure driving ban but refused to say flatly that it would be lifted.

It nevertheless was anticipated that the promised action would be an announcement that the prohibition will be removed in the reasonably near future inasmuch as both Brown and his new chief assistant, Chester Bowles, are opposed to that regulation.

Indications were that the step would be accompanied by an equalization of gasoline rationing between the eastern shortage area and the rest of the nation except the far west. Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has said several times that equalization is in the offing.

Under existing regulations, eastern "A" card holders receive an average of only one and a half gallons of gasoline a week, while the "A" coupon is good for four gallons weekly in the remainder of the country.

Falkenburg, Brink Capture Triumphs In Tennis Tourney

(International News Service)

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 5.—The national junior and boys tennis tournament went into the quarter-final round today with the seeded players running true to form.

Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., and Jim Brink of Seattle, Wash., seeded No. 1 and 2 respectively in the junior division, moved into the fourth round of the singles competition with straight set victories and then teamed together to win two matches in the doubles play.

In the singles competition Falkenburg meets Morton Stern of Philadelphia in the quarter-finals today. Falkenburg beat Lee Wood of Washington, D. C., 6-2, 6-3, in yesterday's third round play while Stern defeated Gordon Naugh of Cincinnati, 6-1, 6-3.

Brink advanced by disposing of John Shea of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-3, and today was paired with Bob Kring of Los Angeles, who eliminated Billy Smith of Orlando, Fla., 6-0, 6-3.

In the other junior quarter-final matches Howe Atwater of Chicago meets Jack Tuero of New Orleans and Ray Garrett of San Diego, Calif., was paired with Ed Ray of Taft, Tex.

TO PICKET USE OF NON-UNION CASKETS AT FUNERAL RITES

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Picketines of funerals where non-union caskets are used appeared a possibility today as a result of a resolution adopted by the 58th annual convention of the State Federation of Labor.

Horace H. Litchfield, one of the sponsors of the resolution, told the convention, "we don't like to take such action but we will put picket lines in front of funerals unless union-made caskets are utilized."

The resolution was adopted unanimously by the convention's 600 delegates in support of a threat by the casket makers and furniture workers union.

THINKS NOTHING OF MANPOWER SHORTAGE

(International News Service)

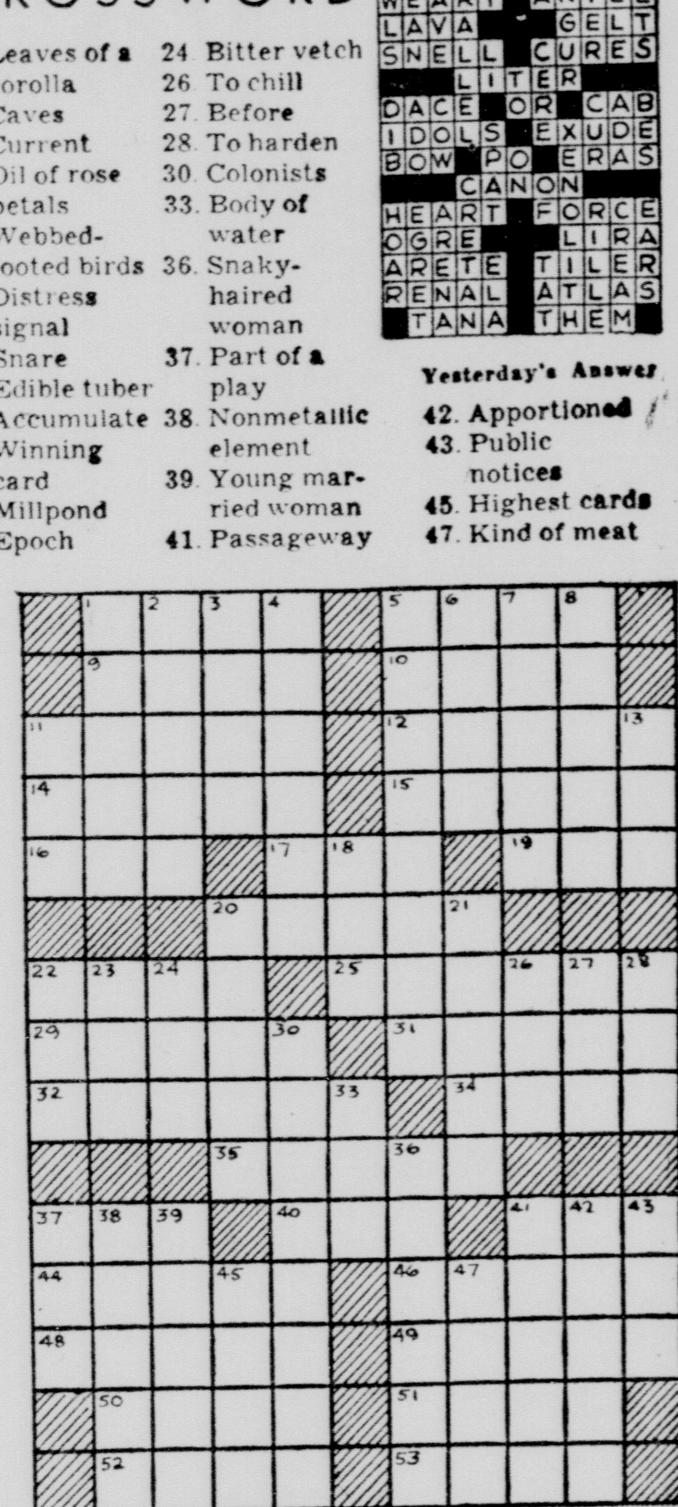

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5.—Caroline Cygan, 33, has been preparing for the present manpower shortage for 26 years. On the 60 acre farm where she lives with her father, Miss Cygan would rather plow than plant, although she says planting is easier. Her day begins at 5:30 with the milking. Then she tends 500 chickens and 50 geese and goes to work in the fields, returning at night to do her housework. Her mother died some time ago.

Conference To Begin Friday

Expect 500 Visitors In New Wilmington For Eight Day Sessions

MANY NOTABLES SHARE PROGRAM

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 5.—With Dr. Mills J. Taylor, conference chairman and secretary of the board of foreign missions, making the opening address, the 38th annual New Wilmington Missionary Conference will get under way Friday evening. The conference will continue for eight days and conclude next Saturday, Aug. 14.

Leaders, speakers, missionaries and counselors have been arriving this week while 425 delegates are expected Friday morning.

Daily Programs

Daily programs have already been arranged, which include Bible hours, mission study classes and institute hours in the morning, and vespers and tabernacle meetings in the evenings. Picnics, parties and recreation are also a part of the daily activities.

A well selected list of outstanding speakers and leaders will be on hand for this year's conference. Feature speakers during the eight days will be Dr. Albert H. Baldinger, who will conduct the daily Adult Bible hour, and Mrs. Julie LaFever Kellersberger, in charge of the daily institute hour. Dr. Baldinger is professor of practical theology at the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, while Mrs. Kellersberger represents the American mission to lepers.

Other Speakers

Other speakers on the list are: Dr. Will W. Orr, who will direct the Girls' Bible hour; Dr. W. Robert Smith, in charge of the Boys' Bible hour; the Rev. John C. Smith, missionary from Japan; the Rev. Willis McGill, missionary from Egypt; and Dr. William Lloyd Imes, president of Knoxville college.

Leaders for the conference include: Mrs. Auleene Jamison, girls' vespers; Alexander S. Fleming, camp manager; John Bald, athletic director; Sam McClelland, dining hall manager; Miss G. Ethel Forbes, dean of women; Miss Emma H. Kensil, dean of mission study; Mrs.

State Crops Are In Good Shape

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 5—Most fruits, vegetables and grains are in good condition despite the dry weather although potatoes were blighted in some localities, the federal-state crop reporting service disclosed today.

Field reports indicated corn prospects were favorable but that Japanese beetles and a second wave of corn borers endangered crops in southern counties. Tomatoes and peaches were described as "generally good," but tobacco and alfalfa have suffered from the drought.

The service reported that pastures were drying in many localities and that dairy rations were being supplemented by green corn and soybeans.

CARBON MONOXIDE

This gas is colorless and odorless. You cannot see it. You cannot smell it. It is very highly poisonous.

It is produced when natural gas or gasoline are burned.

If gas is burned in a stove without a chimney, enough carbon monoxide may be found in the room to cause trouble. It puts you to sleep.

The exhaust from an auto quickly causes the air in a closed garage to be poisonous.

The poisoning sneaks up on you. It does not make you sneeze or cough. It does not make you sick. Sometimes there is a little dizziness but not always.

Never run an auto engine in a closed garage. If you find someone who has been gassed, start artificial respiration right away. Lay him face down. Roll up your coat and put it under his belly. Straddle his legs. Grasp him on both sides just below the ribs. Press down with the weight of your body to squeeze the air out of his lungs.

Press down while you count 1-2-3; then ease up while you count 1-2. Go slow. Don't hurry.

You will probably be yelling for help.

Don't give up. When help comes, do not stop. Be sure the other fellow knows how before he starts.

If the patient starts to breathe, watch him. If he stops breathing, get busy again.

Do not waste any time moving him when you find him. Be sure there is plenty of fresh air.

Keep him quiet when he wakes up.

New Castle Put In New WMC District

Paul F. Murphy Named Area Director With Headquarters In Greensburg

New Castle office of the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission has been assigned to the Greensburg area, it was announced today at the U. S. E. S. office. Formerly New Castle was part of the Lawrence-Beaver county area.

Paul F. Murphy has been named as area director with headquarters in Greensburg, one of two new area headquarters in the state. Altoona is the other.

Other U. S. E. S. offices grouped with New Castle under the new set-up are Greensburg, Latrobe, Uniontown, Washington, Indiana, Butler, Sharon, Oil City, Meadville, Corry, Warren and Somerset.

According to a recent announcement by Frank L. McNamee, regional manpower chief, who took office July 1, the realignment was effected to give full service in every section of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

Aliquippa area, formerly grouped with New Castle, has been consolidated with the Pittsburgh area. Other headquarters areas in the state include Wilkes-Barre, Allentown and Lancaster, which has been extended to include Harrisburg.

The service reported that pastures were drying in many localities and that dairy rations were being supplemented by green corn and soybeans.

NURSES AIDE APPLICATIONS CALLED TODAY

Final Day To Submit Applications And Physical Data For Entering New Class

Today is the final day for turning in all applications and physical examination blanks for entering the new Nurses Aide Class at Jameson Memorial hospital, Mrs. Harry Barkley, Chairman of Nurses Aides for the Lawrence County Chapter of Red Cross, announces.

Interviews will be granted this evening at the Chapter House on North Beaver street, from 7 until 9 o'clock, and also, on Friday evening during the same hours, at the same place. It is imperative that the physical date be complete and submitted, before an interview can be granted.

The urgent need for an increased number of Nurses Aides has prompted the formation of this new class, and it is hoped that persons interested, will be courteous by reporting on time for their interview. Twenty will be selected for this class.

Wheeler Opposes Draft Of Fathers

Proposes Recall Of Congress At Once To Halt Announced Action

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The administration today formulated a plan to cushion the induction of fathers Oct. 1 as a movement was launched to recall congress to enact legislation postponing their draft.

The administration plan was disclosed by authorities to assure thorough combing of the rolls for single men and childless husbands, and arranging quotas both on a national and state basis so that fathers will be the last class called.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D) Mont., aroused over the announcement that the draft of fathers will begin Oct. 1, proposed that congress be recalled from its summer recess, unless the War Manpower Commission voluntarily postponed the "dads draft."

A bill by Wheeler postponing induction of fathers until Jan. 1, is pending in the Senate. It was reported by the military affairs committee shortly before congress recessed until Sept. 14.

Feared that congress could not complete action on the legislation in the 16 days from the time it re-convened until the draft started, Wheeler turned to other means to stop induction of men with children.

"Unless the War Manpower Commission delays the draft I will ask Speaker Rayburn and Democratic Leader Alben Barkley to call congress back earlier," said Wheeler, who is in Montana.

"The only fair thing to do is to let congress act, since a bill is pending."

Wheeler said that it has been announced that 2,000,000 men are now overseas, and pointed out that hundreds of thousands of 18-year-olds are becoming available.

Twins At Camp Prove Problem

(International News Service)

CAMP POLK, La.—Twins stationed at Camp Polk act as chauffeurs and therein lies the makings of a good story.

Pfc Harold Kenney and Pfc Gerald Kenney of Canton, O., are identical twins who cause no end of confusion.

Gerald was assigned to drive a car of WAACs from their camp to a service club. The next morning, the officer making the assignment passed Harold and asked him how he liked the WAACs.

"Sir, I never drove any WAACs anywhere," replied Harold.

"What? You had a load of them last night."

"No, sir. I didn't see any WAACs."

"You're that way yourself," mumbled the officer.

Inducted in October, 1942, the 21-year-old twins are accustomed to being mistaken for each other. A uniform didn't help either. For example, Gerald was gigged, drawing a week of evening duty. But one night he had an important date. It requires no imagination to guess who filled the date and who painted vehicle motors.

Harold is an inch taller than Gerald, who has a slightly upturned nose. Gerald drives for the division surgeon and Harold for the inspector general.

Recently, on a week-end pass, the identical soldier twins met identical twin girls in Lake Charles, La. The story ends. Period.

SERGT. BROWN IN ARMY THIRTY YEARS

(International News Service)

CAMP POLK, La., Aug. 6.—Master Sgt. Walter C. Brown, of the 8th Armored Division at Camp Polk, today holds his tenth War Department Good Conduct Medal, representing 30 years of service in the Army. Slated for retirement in August, the soldier wants to remain in the division for the victory parade down the streets of Tokyo, Rome or Berlin, or maybe all three. Now he is planning a short furlough to see his son, Walter Jr., receive the wings of a second lieutenant in the Air Force at Kelly Field, San Antonio, and to visit his son-in-law, Master Sgt. Kidd of Armored Force Headquarters and his daughter and two grandchildren at Fort Knox, Ky.

Brown enlisted from St. Louis, Mo., on July 5, 1913, with Troop L, 2nd Cavalry. He became a corporal while chasing Pancho Villa with Pershing in 1916. In France with the AEF, he became a duty sergeant on permanent promotion. His next promotion, to technical sergeant, came in 1940 when he joined the Armored Force. He came to the 8th as a master sergeant when the division was activated in April 1942.
